P G E EXTENDS ELECTRIC LINES

GRASS VALLEY: Electric service will be extended in Sierra and Nevada Counties this year to the Gold Lake area, Goodyear's Bar, Cox's Bar and Indian Valley, also Pleasant Valley, Banner Mountain and Pino Alto districts, a large portion of the Wolfe district, also along the McCourtney Road to O'Dell's and others.. Several miles of line will be constructed along the Indian Springs Road, and Bridgeport and French Corral will receive service and many other small districts and subdivisions according to L. R. Farrell, Grass Valley district manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Property owners along the routes of the new lines also will be provided service, he said.

Construction wok on the Gold Lake Highway 49 project is scheduled to start in June or July for completion before the end of the year. Farrell said PGE will construct 52 miles of new power lines in Sierra County this year, at a cost of approximately $300,000. In Nevada County more than 60 miles of new distribution lines will be built this year and will cost approximately $200,000.

These service extensions are part of PGE's $300,000,000 post war expansion program designed to meet new load demand and to build ahead of anticipated growth in Northern and Central California. The program which started immediately after war time building restrictions were lifted, will add approximately 1,000,000 horsepower to PGE's generating capacity by the end of 1951.

Farrell said the company constructed more than 2500 miles of new power lines during 1946 despite shortages of materials, equipment and trained men. The program is being accelerated as fast as these problems are being resolved, he said.

Five new hydroelectric plants, two new steam turbine plants and a system wide expansion of transmission and distribution facilities are included in the company's program. Colgate powerhouse, on the Yuba River, which was artially destroyed by fire last yea, will be replaced by a modern plant of 33,000 horsepower.

William Durbrow, general manager of the district, stated last week that it was optional whether or not the board of directors called the election, or the election was called by petition of the voters and taxpayers of the district itself. In the latter case the bond election can be carried by a majority. In case the board of directors called the election it would require a two thirds majority.

The petition received, Durbrow said contained 1020 signatures as compared with the required minimum of 500 signatures, and represented assessed valuation of $1,200,000 on land, as compared with the minimum requirement of $700,000. If the bond issue is approved it will be devoted to completing the huge earth fill dam at Scott's Flat, in Deer Creek Canyon.

INSIDE STORY OF GRASS VALLEY POLICE, SLOT MACHINE SHAKE-UP

GRASS VALLEY: From an authoratative inside source the real reason for the virtual dismissal of Chief of Police Ben Jenkin was learned. The old one-armed bandit was to blame.

During a regular meeting night about 8 'clock of the city council, according to this authority, a policeman near Mill and Neal Street received a complaint from a cafe owner that three burglars had attempted to drill and rob the slot machines in the resort. The policeman, was able to identify the 3 quickly and chased them down MainStreet. Despite his commands the three burglars put on speed so that he fired a shot over their heads. They finally surrendred only a short distance from the city hall which contains the jail.

The three wtre placed in cells and Chief Jenkins attending a meeting of the city council, was sent for. When he learntd of the attempted robbery of a slot machines in a well known cafe, he inquired briskly if anyone had signed a complaint. None was forthcoming so the three were immediately turned loose.

According to the relator of this tory the chase and the shot, occuring as they did around 8 oc'lock had attracted wide spread attention and popular interest. The chief of police however denied that anything unusual had occured. Friends of the patrolman who had put on the chase and fired the shot were full of curiosity and in some cases resentment. In due time the city council the story and offered Jenkins the choice of resignation or demotion.

The new chief, Frank Knuckey, stated this morning: "I have nothing whatever to say about things that are past, but one thing will be done while I am chief. Laws on the statute books will be enforced. If the people want them changed they will have to do the changing.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder about Kathleen now—
Nostalgia claimed her for its own;
The roses faded from her cheeks,
Her voice became a plaintive moan.
Where was that home. I used to ask
To which poor Kathleen longed to go,
I never ask that question now,
Because, you see, I know..

Years ago, whenever I heard a soulful tenor, singing, "I'll take you home again Kathleen," I used to speculate concerning the location of that beloved home; then this little story came to mind and I speculated no more.

Once upon a time a young western lassie was invited to spend the winter with wealthy relatives in the great city of New York. Of course, she accepted and upon her arrival found herself in a land of magic. She was swept into a maelstrom of activity; theatres, parties, shows, sports and was given the advantages of lessons in music and dancing. The months flew by on fleeting wings; December, January, February and then came March.

One day she stood at a window of her uncle's mansion and watched a swirling snow storm as it covered the great city with a mantle of snowy white. One of her cousins came up and slipped an arm around the young girls' waist. "Pretty," isn't it"? said the cousin "You are now seeing one of our March snow storms."

"March!" ejaculated the young visitor, and with that, she turned and dashed madly up the stairs, where she was found a few moments later frantically packing her trunk. When asked to explain, she answered rather breathlessly, "it's March!"

"Of course, it's March," they told her; but what of that?

"Why don't you know?" was the reply; back home the plums will be in full bloom in daddy's little orchard; everywhere there will be buds just popping out, red buds by the highway, poppies and lupines in the fields, almond trees—all the fruit trees will be coming into bloom. Oh please help me, I must hurry, if I don't, I'll be too late; I'll miss blossom time in California.!

And so, with this little tale in mind, I conclude that Kathleen was a California girl, homesick, and who can blame her? For the sights and sounds of blossom time in her California of the west.

Spring came with smiles and tears and with her came the rustle of spring and the miracle of awakening fairy land. It is blossom time in California, let's find moments when we can lay aside the cares of our hectic days and enjoy our western homeland to the fullest extent.

Uncle Silas says: "There are many sentimental things said and sung about the rustle of spring, but when ma begins her spring house cleaning operations, I find myself considering the hustle and bustle of spring, I do so."—Adeline Merriam Conner.

ON THE RECREATION FRONT

By JOHN M. LEWIS

Recreational activities in Nevada City are getting well underway. The elementary school youth have led the way and now activities that will cater to the interests of high school boys and girls, and others for adults are being planned.

A big saddle club barbecue was planned for Sunday evening and close to one hundred horse enthusiasts had expressed their intention to be on hand; however, threatening weather necessitated postponing the get-together until a later date. A nucleus model club has been formed undedr the acpable supervision of Mr. Duncan, a new-comer to the community, who has been in the model business for sixteen years. He is interested in all types of mdel building and meets with the group every Saturday morning at 10 a. m. in Seaman's Lodge.

Believe it or not, a youth recreation center will be established, due to the generosity of the owner of the National Hotel. All interested youngsters at the high school are urged to enter into the development of this project as it is for their benefit. The specific location will be announced later and also the program as soon as it is decided upon by the youth themselves. It will in all probability have a record player, space to dance, snack bar, and other features. Possbly a hobby room with benches, etc. will be in the same quarters.

Volunteer adult leadership of the prescribed type has been rounded up for these various programs. An athletic club stressing boxing and wrestling, plus general condition, will soon be organized under the experienced supervision of the new manager of the National Hotel, a former varsity wrestler for the University of Nebraska. Also in the athletic field, Mr. Immel, the high school's fine tennis coach, has donated his services in organiziing a city tennis club..

All interested players should make themselves known to Mr. Immel or John Lewis, recreation director.

The spring holds in store a sports carnival, more pot luck suppers for the whole community, formation of a community players group and other forementioned activities, plus baseball and softball.

ENGLE SQUELCHES RUMOR OF $57 PRICE OF GOLD RAISE ITS FALSE

By CONGRESSMAN CLAIR ENGLE

PROTESTED FIREARMS REGISTRATION

I have received a number of letters recently from sportsmen in opposition to proposed legislation that would require registration of firearms greater than .22 calibre. There are two bills on the subject—S. 332 by Senator Wiley of Wisconsin and HR 1061 by Rep. Carson of Ohio.

As the result of many protests from sportsmen and others, Sen. Wiley has asked that his bill be with drawn, and there is little likelihood that action will be taken on HD 1061 pending before the committe on ways and means. It generally is agreed that the proposed legislation would serve no worthwhile purpose and certainly would not act as a restraint on criminal elements.

$57 GOLD RUMOR FALSE

Recently a rumor got started among gold miners of California that a move would be made by a group of senators, among whom would be Senator Malone of Nevada, Senator Taft and Senator Vandenberg, to tie a provision for $57 gold to an appropriation bill. A check on the rumor developed some interesting facts. In the first place, under the Reorganization Act it is impossible from a parliamentary standpoint to tie a rider to an appropriation bill in the same manner the silver rider was tied on last session. Senator Taft informed me that he was not only not sponsoring such a move, but would oppose it. Senator Vandenberg said he knew nothing about the proposal and Senator Malone informed me that he had no definite information on the subject. It appears, therefore, that the rumor was without any foundation at all.. At present I see no disposition here to increase the price of gold and it may be extremely difficult to get favorable consideration of a free domestic market for gold proposed in my bill now pending before banking and currency.

GREEK AID

Most of the letters I have received have been against the aid to the Greeks proposed by the president. It appears that the letters opposing assistance to Greece are coming from two sources. First are those who believe that we should mind our own business and not be mixing into the internal affairs of other nations. Second are those who are friendly to Russia and think that we are kicking the shins of the Russian bear. It appears that the two groups are totally opposed in their fundamental thinking, on the subject and are opposing the assistance for exactly opposite reasons. As far as I can determine at the present time most mmbers of congess are in a complete quandry on the subject and will insist upon giving it very careful consideration.

NEVADA CITY HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

LEE MILLER

CARDS AND NUMBERS TALK GIVEN

The Reverend Angus Miller gave a baffling talk on cards and numbers at the high school Friday. Among the topic he discussed were The Worm in The Book Shelf, The Clock Riddle, Selecting a Card, and Spelling Numbers. The Worm in the Book Shelf is a riddle about a bookworm who ate his way from the first page of one book to the last page of the next book. In The Clock Riddle, Rev. Miller called Jack Underwood from the audience and told him to show the audience any card from 1 to 12. He then counted around the clock a few times and stopped at the number Jack had chosen. Demonstating the puzzle Spelling Numbers, he placed the cards in a certain order and spelled one., (for each letter he took the first card from the pack and placed it at the bottom) immediately card number 1 appeared at the face of the pack. Then he spelled two, and card number two appeared and so on up to number twenty. He claims this trick could be worked in any language. The Reverend also explained some very interesting facts about the Greek and Hebrew Bible.

ALTITUDE CHAMBER TO TEST HUMAN BODY

LOS ANGELES: Originally used by the army to test aircraft equipment under high heat conditions a small high altitude pressure chamber set up by the engineering department on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California will be used for finding about the far subtler mechanicism of the human body.

Just how much heat a human being can stand will be determined by means of a potentiometer which registers with hair trigger accuracy the skin surfact temperature of the man in the pressure chamber. Both internal body temperature and skin temperature are permanently recorded.

Conditions under which a man might safely work in foundries, or at underground construtions or the dtgree of heat which a pilot in the cockpit of a plane might be able to stand under abnormal heat pressure set up by friction in machinehy, will be some of the information targets aimed at by the tests.

The pressure chamber is the smaller of two sold by the War Assets Administration to the university. The larger chamber will also be used for determination of effect of high and low temperatures but will include tests on machines and materials as well as people..

Provide a good water supply near the buildings for fire truck.

Have hose attached and ready to use near the buildings.

Keep fire tools, ladders and backpumps ready for quick use.

Plow firebreaks around grain fields and hay stacks.

Don't put up hay that is too green.

Be sure your campfire is fully out before you leave..

Heel matches and cigarettes first until they're cold and then throw them away.

AUBURN CHAMBER SEEKS MEANS TO KEEP STREETS CLEAN

AUBURN: The matter of keeping Auburn's streets clean came up for further discussion at a meeting of the chamber of commerce Friday night. At a previous meeting, the chamber criticized the dirty condition of the streets and wrote a letter to the city council, suggesting that equipment be purchased to flush the steets.

A reply was read from Mayor W. H. Boswell, stating the city had no funds at the present time to purchase the equipment.

The mayor stated the council hoped to be able to raise funds by next year to purchase such equipment.

Letters were also written at a previous meeting to H. E. Chastain of the Placer Union High School and college and E. V. Cain of the Auburn Union Elementary School, asking the support of the schools in keeping the streets clean.

A reply was received from Cain, which stated the elementary school was endeavoring to impress on the students the importance of throwing papers and trash only in rubbish containers.

The chamber was of the opinion that no improvement had been shown.

Veterans' News

A growing number of American veterans are drawing benefits for schooling in foreign countries. Veterans Administration recently revealed that 1019 veterans were in foreign schools at the end of January, which represented a 70 per cent jump in such enrollments during the month.

Canada led the list with 478 ex-GI students and Mexico was second with 88. Eight countries not on the December 31 list appeared in January. These countries and the number of veterans enrolled there. are: Netherlands 3, Greece 2, Newfoundland 2, Labanese Republic 2, Spain 1, New Zealand 1, Brazil 1 and Wales 1.

Other countries in which veterans are studying and the number in each are listed by VA as follows: England 77, France 77, Palestine 66, Switzerland 54, Canal Zone 41, Scotland 41, Ireland 21, Cuba 16, Italy 11, Australia 7, Chile 6, Belgium 5, Sweden 5, Argentina 4, Denmark 3, Peru 2, Columbia 2. Czechoslovakia 2 and Dominican Republic 1.

Sixteen veterans living abroad are taking correspondence courses in the United States under the GI Bill but are not eligible to receive subsistence allowances.

The totals for foreign countries show only veterans whose enrollment papers have been completed and returned to VA's central office and whose eligibility fo subsistence has been determined.. Many veterans who may be on their way overseas or in the process of enolling do not appear on the list.

Q: I am in training as a bookkeeper under Public Law 16; I have a 20 per cent compensation for gunshot wounds on my right leg; my eyes are bothering me and I believe I need a pair of glasses. Can I get an examination and then a pair of glasses if necessary?

A: Yes. A veteran in training under PL16 is entitled to teatment for any ailment which interfefes with his training. Veterans administration will authorize an eye examination and treatment. Glasses will be furnished by VA if found necessary by the doctor..

Q: I submitted proof of my marriage when I was in the army and received an allotment for my wife. Do I have to prove it over again to claim my wife as a dependent for subsistence under thi GI Bill?

A: Yes.

Q: I am in training under Public Law 16. Does the ceiling of $200 a month for married men and $175 a month for single men affect me in any way?

A: No. Income ceiling requirements as established under Public Law 679 do not apply to veterans training under Public Law 16.

More than 3000 World War II veterans a week in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii are delaying their insurance payments by two weeks or more by mailing them to New York instead of San Francisco, the Veterans Administration said today.

Since January all insurance accounts of World War II veterans residing in California, Nevada and Hawaii are serviced at the San Francisco branch office. Correct mailing address for remitting premiums is Veterans Administration Insurance Service, 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco 5, California.

World War I veterans should continue to send remittances to the VA, Washington, D. C.

San Francisco has the largest securities exchange in the west.

MADELINE HIMES WRITES OF WORK IN TOKYO

(Ed. Note: Madeline Himes, daughter of Mrs. Grace Himes of this city, is a Red Cross executive stationed in Tokio. In this letter, she tells of the opening of a new Red Cross center., where she is in charge of the Bureau of Information.)

Tokyo, March 18

Dear Mother,

Here's that report I promised you this morning:

The opening of the new center went off with no ceremony, but with breathless haste. At ten minutes before opening time, the Jap store cleaners were washing the glass show cases, putting in fluorescent lights and generally cluttering up the place while I gnawed my nails to the quick! However, we were ready to go when the doors opened and it was a success from the start!

We've received compliments all day and are delighted with our reception. Goodness! The questions! Millions of them: "Where can I sleep? Where do I eat? What train do I take to Kyoto? (Or to some remote spot I've never heard of.) What rest camp has the best skiing?)

The wives are the worst—want eveything in the book. But it's stimulating and great fun and the whole world goes by my desk. Our cubicle is very bright and cheery in red, white and blue, and I've dwarf evergreen trees here and there to soften the showcase lines.

Mother, it's so much fun—ties in with radio and newspaper and I learn and learn and learn, and meet all the interesting people in Tokyo.

I'm dog tired and must get to bed. This is all for now—more tomorrow. Just wanted to say hello and goodnight.

MADELINE..

Truckee Streets Given Cleaning By Fire Hoses

TRUCKEE: Truckee's main street this week took on the appearance of a well kept, progressive city when a crew of men representing the division of highways, the public utility district and the fire department as well as the individuals, thoroughly polished the thoroughfares leaving it clean, from one end to the other.

The state crew swept up all the accumulation of dirt and debris and hauled it away and members of the fire department followed up with fire hose to thoroughly wash the sidewalk and street.

It is hoped according to Constable N. F. Dolley, to have the street thus cleaned at least once each week. Dolley said he and Deputy Sheriff Harold Hodson would oversee the work and that the fire department would lend its offices to keep the street clean.

LOCAL S. S. BOARD HOLDS FINAL MEET

NEVADA CITY: The Nevada County Slective Service Board held its final meeting Friday afternoon under the law which created it in 1940. The board ceased to exist with midnight March 31st, congress having refused to prolong its life.

Present at the meeting of the board were James C. Tyrrell, chairman, John J. Looser, Harley M. Leete, r., and William Durbrow. Merle Morrison, the board's first secretary, who was transferred to the state office of Selective Service in Sacrmento early in the war, told the board that its record was one of the best among the 204 boards in the state.

R. L. P. Bigelow, one of the original members of the board, resigned early in the late war. He was replaced by Frank G. Finnegan, who resigned to enter the army. William Durbrow suceeded Finnegan.

The board held its first meeting and organized on October 17, 1940. Nevada County provided 1997 men for the armed services during the war and including a few inductees since the war ended. Among that number were men who enlisted during the early months of the war. On the active file of registrants, there are 5075 names. The proportion of those who were inducted or who enlisted to total registration was 3 1-2 per cent above the state average.

Mrs. Dorothy Wilson present secretary of the board, stated she had as yet received no instructions regarding her tenure in office. However, Morrison stated that for the time being the Selective Service records and files will remain where they are in all counties throughout the county..

Advertising Pays

John Wanamaker, one of America's most famous and successful business men is credited with this sound advice:

"If there is one enterprise on earth that a quitter should leave alone, it is advertising. Advertising does not jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year until it exerts an irresistible power."

NEVADA VITY: The Nevada City Sportsmen's Club has been organized and George Halstead elected president. By-laws have been drawn up by Frank G. Finnegan, attorney, that provide standards for membership and regulations governing admission of members and election of officers.

At the first meeting of the organization Wednesday evening the membership was divided into two teams, the Polecats and the Eager Beavers who will compete in killing predatory animals and birds.

The charter members are George Halstead, Frank Ghidotti, Lindley Chapman, A. S. Bates, Joseph Paris, Philip Casci, Vernon Gulartie, Albert Walbrecht, Dr. B. W. Hummelt, R. V. Conrad, B. Braunlich, William Tamblyn, Howard Amos, Otto Stahlshmidt, Ed Frantz, Elmer Fischer, Harold Washburn, Earl Rickard, Frank Stewart and William Skalisky.

Clarence Martz, William Casci, Leo Cullen, Frank Finnegan, Verne Kennedy, Ed Hewston, George Hansen, Albert Eckman, Robert Tamblyn, Miles Coughlin, Dr. Walter Hawkins, Clarence Walker, Charles Smith, Frank Duffy, Lonny Noyes, Howard Smith.

The contest between the Polecats and the Eager Beavers will begin Sunday, March 30th and end June 29. The club has decided to join the Sacramento Sierra Sportsmen's Council. The next meeting of the club will be on April 9th.

INGALLS SAYS PHONE COMPANY WANTS ARBITRATION

GRASS VALLEY: Readiness of the telephone company to arbitrate the wage demands of 12 telephone unions was evidenced in letters to the unions offering to submit the question of wages to a board of arbitration arranged through the U. S. Department of Labor, accoding to E. R. Ingals, Mgr., who stated that the arbitration offer was being made by the company "in recognition that the public interest comes first, and it eliminates any reason for a telephone work stoppage which would be a disaster for the public."

In summing up the company's position, Ingalls said:

"Telephone employees, as is well known, have been fairly paid and well treated. Wage schedules have been increased several times in the last few years in addition to regular progression increases; employees have good working conditions, steady work, holidays and vacations with pay, sickness benefits and pensions.

"The company believes that the present contracts are fair and is willing to renew them..

"The unions' demands, if granted, would cost the company, and ultimately the users of the service,, about $100,000,000 annually. This is equivalent to $45 per year per telephone subscriber, or a 40 per cent increase in all telephone rates.

Ingalls noted that the company is already before regulatory bodies to obtain rate increases "to meet current costs and major additional wage costs must be reflected in still higher rates."
